Activate Edit Delete	Automatically adds the InLinkz linkup code to your post instead of relying of embedded SCRIPT tags. To get the code, login normally to www.inlinkz.com and go to "get script" of the relevant collection Version 0.1 By Aris Korbetis, InLinkz.com

Activate the plugin and you are all set from here.

Now go to the InLinkz site (http://new.inlinkz.com)

fieling linkun id-70 mede-1 negeSize-801
[inlinkz_linkup id=70 mode=1 pageSize=60]
[inlinkz_linkup id=70 mode=1 pageSize=80]

Get the small code that mentions it is for the InLinkz_scripter plugin

Please note that there are two InLinkz_scripter codes. The first is for the new dynamic widget (which will be the default in the new InLinkz design) and the second (not shown in picture) is for the older widget that is currently the default.

Just paste it wherever you need it on your Wordpress editor (does not matter if it is on preview or HTML mode) And PREVIEW!!!

The code is not removed on scheduled posts either.
